DETAILED ACTION

Introduction

1. Applicant's request for reconsideration of the finality of the rejection of the last Office action is persuasive and, therefore, the finality of that action is withdrawn.
2. The amendment filed October 3, 2006, has been entered.
3. This action is Non-Final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hambleton et al. (U.S. 4,557,398) in view of Powell (WO 99/07786). Hambleton et al. discloses the claimed invention except for the lower acid content material. Powell teaches that it is known to provide a heat seal material which comprises an ethylene acrylic acid ionomer and an ethylene methacrylic acid ionomer. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the container of Hambleton et al. with a heat seal material of Powell, in order to improve the adherence qualities of the sealing material.
6. Claims 1-25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hambleton et al. (U.S. 4,557,398) in view of Hoh et al. (U.S. 4,346,196). Hambleton et al. discloses the claimed invention except for the lower acid content material. Hoh et al. teaches that it is known to provide a heat seal material which comprises an ethylene acrylic acid ionomer and an ethylene methacrylic acid ionomer. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the container of Hambleton et al. with a heat seal material of Hoh et al., in order to improve the adherence qualities of the sealing material.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed October 6, 1006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that since Powell teaches HDPE in the heat seal material, that it would not be obvious to omit the HDPE from Powell's seal material. "The use of patents as references is not limited to what the patentees describe as their own inventions or to the problems with which they are concerned. They are part of the literature of the art, relevant for all they contain." In re Heck, 699 F.2d 1331, 1332-33, 216 USPQ 1038, 1039 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (quoting In re Lemelson, 397 F.2d 1006, 1009, 158 USPQ 275, 277 (CCPA 1968)). Disclosed examples and preferred embodiments do not constitute a teaching away from a broader disclosure or nonpreferred embodiments. In re Susi, 440 F.2d 442, 169 USPQ 423 (CCPA 1971). "A known or obvious composition does not become patentable simply because it has been described as somewhat inferior to some other product for the same use." In re Gurley, 27 F.3d 551, 554, 31 USPQ2d 1130, 1132 (Fed. Cir. 1994).
